MESSAGE FROM LAURIE LOVELL-SIMONS

With a new year, and hopefully with the worst of Covid behind us, I hope you all returned to work refreshed by a break over the festive season.

NSWIPP has begun this new year well: Excellent clinical and scientific presentations on Monday nights, our first outreach program in some time, with the successful online morning around the film the "Becoming", and as always, a thoughtful supervisors group meeting.

Many of our members have been hard at work assisting with training, infant observation, membership matters, professional development, keeping an eye on our finances, our building and general administrative matters.

A big thank you to you all. NSWIPP is its own village, and collaborative and supportive working together on committees, as well as openly sharing and learning from each other in our clinical work, is at the heart of it.

Congratulations to Brad Freeman who at the end of March moves from Associate member to Full member.

You will have all received your annual membership renewal. As well as paying dues in a timely manner, we encourage you to promptly complete the membership form which is a requirement for ongoing membership.

It is also worth reminding ourselves of another significant administrative matter, one that none of us like to think about. I do urge you to make sure you have up-to-date patient and supervisee lists, and clear instructions for nominated colleagues regarding the management of your practice in the case of incapacity to work or sudden death. These matters are sometimes described as a professional will.

I also would encourage you to register with our Confederation if you have not already done so. It is hoped that once the register is up and running that it will offer a consolidation of our public presence, influence and recognition for our field of psychoanalytic practice.

You should have all received by now the advance notice of the PPAA conference in Auckland, September 9 till 11. I do hope many of you decide to attend, and perhaps consider putting in a proposal to present a paper.

From July this year it will be NSWIPP's turn to hold the executive function of the PPAA for 2 years. For those unfamiliar with the structure of the PPAA, all member associations are represented on the PPAA council by between 1 and 3 members. Other Council positions are held by Chairs of the PPAA committees: Training, Membership, Ethics, Journal, Continuing Education, Public Issues. (the latter 2 committees are currently inactive and unrepresented).

After a very challenging last year for many of us individually, as well as for our organisation, I do hope the year is a happy and healthy/healthier year for us all.

Many of you will know that our much-loved member Anne-Marie Swan, has been on extended sick leave this year. She hopes to be able to return to work in June, and we do wish her all the very best for a full recovery.

Warm wishes to you all.

Laurie

MAB News

We would like to congratulate Brad Freeman on his transition from Associate to Full Membership of NSWIPP. He is already contributing a great deal to our community in his regular and thoughtful attendance at Monthly Clinical and Scientific Meetings, as well as running the Writing Group with Penny Jools, so we look forward to his ongoing involvement in the life of our institute.
